Notes from the Real World

Note to all of my family/friends, who rapidly scroll past the teaching/learning information to get to this section-sorry. Just did not happen this month. I've had so much real world that I have not even taken the time to write about it.

However, Eric Abrahamson, an author, is writing a book about The New Pioneers, who are those who live in rural America and work on the internet. He recently interviewed me.

Enjoy. <http://www.thenewpioneers.com/>
