

Scaffolding: The Path to College and Careers

Great Valley Writing Project

CSU Stanislaus

September 22, 2012

Joan Wink, Ph. D., Professor Emerita

www.JoanWink.com

joan@joanwink.com

Scaffolding: The Path to College and Careers

The purpose of this presentation is to prepare teachers with the strategies for scaffolding language and knowledge with English Learners, and secondly to demonstrate that scaffolding is the path to future success in college and careers.

What is scaffolding?

How to do it with complex texts?

Examples from Joan

Examples with Participants

TPR

Total Physical Response

TPRS

Teaching Proficiency Through Reading and Story-Telling

Examples from Joan

Examples with Participants

Scaffold

College / Careers

Using Technology to Scaffold to the Future

Constructing Knowledge Together

Selected Resources

Asher, TPR
Center for Digital Story Telling
Cummins, Literacy
Kapp, ZooBurst
Ray, TPRS
Roe & Wink, scaffolding
Wood, Bruner, scaffolding
www.JoanWink.com, stuff
Vygotsky, scaffolding

Technology

Evernote
Skitch
Zooburst
Prezi
IFTTT

Scaffolding, a term coined by Wood, Bruner, & Ross (1976) applies to Structuring strategies to make content comprehensible for students. It is especially useful for English learners as the content is broken down manageable chunks to enhance understanding (Roe & Wink, 2012).