Spiral of Literacy

Joan

Began reading to her children and learned to love reading

First grade: learned to read with Dick and Jane

Literacy continues

Does not remember being read to as a child

Remembered reading all that was required, but nothing more

Finally, started reading for pleasure, age 30

Children moved on to reading for themselves

Dawn

Began reading to her children

Literacy continues

Still reading constantly and loving it

Still reading

Literacy continues

Remembers being read to constantly

Pre-kindergarten, learned to read, no one seems to know when/how

Doesn't remember reading anything that was required, but vividly remembers reading everything else

Line Drawing 1.0: Joan's Spiral of Literacy

Line Drawing 1.1: Dawn's Spiral of Literacy
How will you link students to learning in a non-traditional way?